

WESTERLY MAN FOUND DEAD

Alexander Lappin, Once a Norwich Weaver, Drank Saturday Night, Rolled Down Embankment and Was Killed—Platt Family Finds Little Charity—Legacies For Lewis Family—Tuberculosis Patient Sent Back to Italy.

Alexander Lappin, a weaver employed in the Pawcatuck woolen mill, at Potter Hill, was found dead beside the railroad track near the Chapman quarry, not far from the place where the body of Noyes Lamphere was found last Monday. Lappin was considered under the influence of liquor when last seen Saturday night, and probably did not realize that the structure known as Fraser's bridge over the railroad tracks had been removed pending the building of a new bridge at that point. He evidently walked over the edge of the inclined embankment and then rolled down to the level of the railroad track, landing with his face and about half his head in a pool of water. He was in this condition when found Sunday morning. He was probably stunned when his head struck in the water, as there were cuts over the right eye and near the nose, on the crown of the head and on the left side of the head, evidently inflicted by the contact with rocks as he rolled down the embankment. These cuts were clean to the skull, but the skull was not fractured.

Dr. J. Howard Morgan, medical examiner, was notified at 7:45 Sunday morning, viewed the body, made inquiry and investigation, and as no friends appeared, authorized the removal of the body by Undertaker Murphy. The medical examiner could not learn whether Lappin was married or had any near relatives.

Lappin was first employed in Potter Hill about three years ago, but has been off and on the job several times since then, returning to Potter Hill about two months ago, where he has worked quite steadily since then. He was addicted to drink and had been arrested several times in the past three years by the Westerly police and had been sentenced by the Third district court to the state farm for six months for drunkenness. This seemed to be the man's main fault, for he was a good workman and sociable. He was about 38 years of age. As he frequently referred to Norwich, it is thought he has relatives in that city, or acquaintances among employees of the Reliance Worsted company in that city, where he was formerly employed.

The Platt family of Pawcatuck, consisting of Mrs. Platt and two daughters, are in hard luck. A few weeks ago it became necessary for the good order of the village of Pawcatuck for Selectman Stable and Patrolman Nicholas to visit the Platt home. Mrs. Platt was arrested for maintaining a disorderly house. She was found guilty by Judge Bred in the town court of Stonington and sentenced to six months in the New London county jail. Sentence was suspended on condition that Mrs. Platt leave town by March 1. Since then Mrs. Platt has been trying to get a tenement elsewhere, but without success, as she was barred when her identity was made known.

Mrs. Platt was placed on probation, in the custody of Patrolman Nicholas. The term of probation having expired and as Mrs. Platt and her family were still in Pawcatuck, she appeared before Judge Bred Sunday and asked for extension of time to leave town. The judge made the limitation April 1.

Mrs. Platt said she had decided to reform in her mode of living, though she received no encouragement, as she is ignored by her neighbors and former friends. She desires to secure a tenement outside the town of Stonington, but had been unable to do so during the month. Her eldest daughter, too, has decided to reform, but she is having difficulty to secure employment. Miss Platt was given work at the Potter mill and was doing her best to keep the place when she was informed that she must leave the mill, as her presence was objectionable to other employees. She was as soon as the mill girls ascertained who the Platt girl was, a petition was circulated for signatures demanding that the girl be dismissed from the mill, which would leave the mill. This petition was presented to the superintendent, and Miss Platt was discharged.

Guiseppa Lazarra, who came from Italy to Pawcatuck several months ago, who is suffering from tuberculosis, was gradually becoming a charge on the town of Stonington. Selectman Stable took the matter up with the proper state officials, who in turn referred the case to the federal bureau of immigration. An official investigation was made of the case and it was decided that Mr. Lazarra should be deported and he was so notified. He made no objection to returning to his native land. Saturday noon Paulman Nicholas escorted Lazarra to the railway station and gave him over to the custody of Inspector Billings, who was on the 12:15 train bound from Boston to New York. Several friends of Lazarra were at the station and their parting was extremely sympathetic.

Should an act amending the liquor laws of Rhode Island prevail there would be only nine liquor licenses in Westerly. Instead of eighteen, as at present, for provision is made that there be but one license to every 1000 of population instead of 500. Other amendments would prohibit the sale of liquor on Good Friday, against selling to drunks, the requirement of a 40 per cent. vote on the license question, the cutting out of the "grocery" and more stringent restriction in regard to tavern and victualling licenses.

The Most Useful Remedy In Medicine

Begins where Other Remedies Leave off and Leads where No Other Product can Follow

Follow the story of BIOPLASM (Bower)—the great natural corrector of ills caused by body negligence.

For many years BIOPLASM (Bower) has been extensively used by physicians in all parts of the world in the treatment of many diseases. The excellent results obtained have been truly marvelous.

As we all know our blood prepares for nutrition all food, and through the blood circulation all waste matter is transformed into harmless products for discharge. If any one of these chemical changes in the blood disturbs the blood action—the waste matter which should be changed and eliminated becomes a dangerous poison. Then follow our troubles.

BIOPLASM starts at the base of the trouble—in the primary cells which have become stagnant from the sluggish change of the worn-out tissues. When the millions of cells are renewed to normal action by BIOPLASM, trouble can no longer exist. In other words, BIOPLASM removes the obstacle and nature completes the cure.

BIOPLASM (Bower) is a product of nature. It contains no Alkaloids, Alcohol, minerals or habit-forming drugs—nothing but "Life-Matter," as the name implies. Is perfectly harmless, easy and pleasant to take and its effect on the nervous system is unparalleled by any other remedy.

In cases of nervous exhaustion (neurasthenia), Nervous diseases of children, Alcoholism, Poison, Insomnia, Hysteria, Kidney ailments, disorders of digestion, Liver troubles, Incipient Tuberculosis, Locomotor Ataxia, etc., the BIOPLASM (Bower) treatment will prove wonderfully effective.

The Bioplasmic Food Company, 24 John street, New York city, are the sole distributors of Bioplasmic Food for free distribution, which will tell you all about its action in the treatment of disease. A copy should be sent every household. A postal request will be promptly answered.

BIOPLASM heretofore has been dispensed only by physicians, but is now being sold by the public. The arrangements have been made with The Lee & Osgood Co. of this city to supply the public with Bioplasmic Food at 10¢ per bottle.

NOTE: Mild laxative like SAL-LITHIN should be taken occasionally during treatment. Your druggist will supply a bottle of SAL-LITHIN with purchase of first bottle of Bioplasm on request.

For Dandruff and Falling Hair--25 Cent "Danderine"

Save Your Hair! Danderine Destroys Dandruff and Stops Falling Hair at Once—Grows Hair, We Prove it.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous you must use Danderine, because nothing else accomplishes so much for the hair.

Just one application of Danderine will double the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scrub robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, don't hesitate, but get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Danderine.

It eventually—why not now? A 25 cent bottle will truly amaze you
